Peggy Courtney – Visitors Bureau

They brought a group in for a couple of days to look at places to see in the county and they turned it around quickly and booked a bus tour. They came from Indiana. It was a great turn around.
Tourism season is still going strong. They still have many tours coming in and will keep going through November. Part of their strategic planning is to put together a meeting with people in the community to discuss the importance of tourism for the county. The meeting is scheduled for 2/22/18 at the Neely Center thinking from 5:00 – 7:00. They have a key note speaker and the program is put together as well. They are targeting restaurants, hotels, museums and any other companies that are impacted by tourism.

They have a jail house rock tour scheduled for tomorrow night.

Talked about bed tax in the county and how we match up with other counties. Commissioner Reiter asked if Peggy had any insight on bed tax and how that works for the visitor’s bureau and other places that receive money. The Board asked if she could get some numbers from other counties for the next meeting.

They are almost out of the Visitors Bureau guide which is a good thing. They will be working on the 2018 guide. They are designing the cover and working on signing up advertisers. She asked if the Commissioners would like to sponsor a page in the guide again.

Dave Wadsworth – Regional Airport Authority

They will have to do some studies on the depth of the asphalt on the runways for the runway rehab project. They are hoping at the October 4th meeting they will have enough information to make some decisions. There will be some assistance in financing the project from the FAA and the airport along with grants. The Ohio Aviation Association will also be working on matching funding.

The Board had some concerns regarding the lack of preparation by the treasurer and finance members at the meetings. They felt they should be better prepared. They are looking at how to get these reports and have the process more up to date and ready for reporting. Dave is going to assure that the end of the month numbers are provided within a couple days after the end of the month. The Commissioners are very concerned about how prepared the RAA is for the next audit by the State. They would like to know the concerns from the last audit have been corrected and they are ready for the next audit. The Commissioners would like to see a memo come from this office to the Airport Board reminding them they should be prepared.
