Throughout the day the following occurred ……………………..

Commissioners reviewed numerous mailings. Minutes from session 9/28/17 were reviewed and approved. Invoices were approved in electronic and paper fashion.

County Administrator discussion:
- Pristine taxes are paid and rent is paid through June and will be caught up in October.

IT Staff- Gary Kirsch, Atul Chopra and Will Chambers
- Server migration has been completed over the weekend. There are some major problems with large email accounts. The accounts are getting larger and they are afraid that the system could crash if they are not managed. The Board would like to have them put together some bullet points and what can be done to assist. They are closer to moving the rest of the stacks over to the server room. This should all be done in the next two to three weeks.
- We discussed the generator and that they need to shut the courthouse down at some point to test it. IT would rather this happen in the evening at about 5:30pm. Romanoff will be contacted to set up the time.
- They are getting ready to finish up moving the rest of the servers from countryside drive to the new servers. Every day they are moving something over.
- Starting next week Atul and Will are splitting responsibility on the new 911 system to keep working on the project. There are a lot of pieces to this project and they need to dedicate the time to the project.
Minutes 2017

- The work order system they have in place is not working as well as they were expecting. There is an upgrade that can be done they are hoping will make a difference.
- They are working quite a bit on backup and anti-virus systems.
- Working on the emergency disaster recovery system. There are programs for equipment for government entities.

Bryan Humphrey from the Ohio Pork Council came in to make sure the Commissioners know what they do and that they are there for questions when needed. He may not know the answer but he will assure he will get an answer. They do have a web page with and FAQ section. They do get great questions on the page. They know there are always concerns from neighbors when big barns are being built and when there is news about pork products.

One of the fascinating things is rulings the FDA and USDA has put in to affect concerning antibiotics. They also have to run many tests to make sure the meat is safe prior to selling. Pork is safe to eat and they encourage everyone to feel safe when they eat pork. There are about 2500 to 2600 hog farms in Ohio. There is a new processing plant being built in Michigan.
Minutes 2017

There are some grant monies available to hog farms to encourage them and assist in keeping these farms functional. Many of the farms rent the barns and own the hogs they raise. Bryan talked about the value of the manure for fertilizing. Discussed phosphates contributed from manure to the Erie Basin and what the Pork Council does and the statistics they have regarding this issue. Livestock contributes only 20% of the phosphates entering the waterways. They have also changed the way barns are built to assist in keeping the odor issues down. These barns are all shower in and shower out to keep contaminants and orders to a minimum.
